FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHARLESTON, IL--Carl Pugliese is the assistant activities editor of the Daily Eastern News, the student newspaper of Eastern Illinois University.

Carl, son of Thomas and Rosemary Pugliese of 15417 Michael, Oak Forrest, is a journalism major and business minor at EIU.

A junior, he said he picked journalism because it is never boring and he can be creative in his every day work.

Carl said his career goal is to work in television or on a magazine as an investigative reporter.

His collegiate journalism career began as a reporter and wire editor. He moved up to editorial page editor and in 1982 became assistant activities editor.

As assistant activities editor, Carl aids the activities editor in her duties, assigning and editing stories for publication in the News.

He is a member of the Society for Collegiate Journalists, an honorary organization for college journalism students who have shown talent and desire to achieve through their work on one of EIU's publications.

He has also worked for the Warbler, the yearbook of EIU, and is a resident assistant of one of Eastern's dormitories.

The Daily Eastern News has won many awards, including an All-American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press every year since 1973, and was recently chosen as one of five finalists for ACP's coveted Pacemaker Award, which recognizes the best college newspaper in the country.

The Journalism Department, which sponsors the News, recently received national accreditation from the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications for excellence in their curriculum and student activities. Eastern became one of only 85 schools in the nation to be accredited out of approximately 300 schools which have journalism majors.
